Thank you for downloading this toolkit and for joining us for Stonewall OutLoud.

Stonewall OutLoud is a national effort to preserve and honor the lived experiences and resiliency of LGBTQ people 50 years after the 1969 Stonewall riots.

To celebrate the 50th anniversary of Stonewall, we’re teaming up with SAGE, the National LGBTQ Task Force, GRIOT Circle, GLSEN, and others to honor the lives and legacies of the people who lived before Stonewall before their voices are lost to history.

We invite everyone across the country to pick up their mobile devices and use the StoryCorps App to record the personal stories of people within the LGBTQ community who were born before Stonewall. Each of these interviews will become a permanent part of American history at the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress.

In this toolkit, you’ll find everything you need to record a StoryCorps conversation:

- Instructions on how to get our free app for your smartphone
- Questions for great conversations with special focus on LGBTQ themes and subjects
- Tools to add your interview to a growing archive of stories

The 50th anniversary of the Stonewall riots offers a unique opportunity to honor and listen to the stories of those who lived in the era before the modern LGBTQ civil rights movement was born. In June 2019, we hope to show our gratitude to our elders while inspiring Americans to create a vitally important archive of LGBTQ elders.

Pledge to record. Honor elders. Ensure that LGBTQ history is never forgotten. We look forward to listening.

With thanks,

Dave Isay

In the early hours of June 28, 1969, eight officers from New York City’s public morals squad loaded into four unmarked police cars and headed to the Stonewall Inn at 7th Avenue and Christopher Street. The local precinct had just received a new commanding officer, who kicked off his tenure by initiating a series of raids on gay bars. The Stonewall Inn was an inviting target — operated by the Gambino crime family without a liquor license, the dance bar drew a crowd of drag queens, hustlers, and minors. It was almost precisely at midnight that the morals squad pulled up to the Stonewall Inn, led by Deputy Inspector Seymour Pine.

At the time, the vice squad routinely raided gay bars. Patrons always complied with the police, frightened by the prospect of being identified in the newspaper. But this particular Friday night was different. This time, tired of being harassed by law enforcement, patrons resisted arrest. The subsequent rioting sparked a revolution, and a hidden subculture was transformed into a vibrant political movement. What began with a drag queen clobbering her arresting officer soon escalated into a full-fledged riot, and modern gay activism was born.

Michael Levine recalls his experience at the Stonewall on June 28, 1969, in a StoryCorps story, “The lights went up, the music went off, and you could hear a pin drop.”

The police started to say, “OK everyone, leave,” and the drag queens, they’re the ones who said to the police, “We’re not leaving.” And they formed a chorus line outside of the bar. And they stood there dancing in the street. They were all Puerto Rican drag queens and Irish cops. It was a funny, funny confrontation. The police would disperse the group and then they would reform half a block away and dance back toward the Stonewall.

This night sparked the modern movement for LGBTQ rights that has led to 50 years of activism, visibility, and increased civil rights for people of all sexual orientations and gender identities.

The StoryCorps App provides start-to-finish tools to help anyone listen to, record, and share StoryCorps stories. StoryCorps cares about your privacy. Click here to see the privacy policy, and know that you have complete control over how and whether to share your story, and whom to share it with.

IDENTIFY AN INTERVIEW PARTNER.
The idea for Stonewall OutLoud is to celebrate LGBTQ elders by listening to their story. Consider whether you know someone to interview, perhaps an older friend or family member. An invitation to share a story is an honor, as is the act of receiving the story itself.

FIND THE RIGHT TIME AND PLACE.
Find a time where neither of you will be rushed, and a quiet place where you’ll be comfortable, left alone, and able to hear and record with ease.

DOWNLOAD THE STORYCORPS APP.
Using your smartphone, explore and play with the app before your interview so you can focus on the conversation and storytelling with your partner. Visit the website for more tips on how to get started, perfect your interview, and have amazing sound quality for your interview.
4 PREPARE YOUR QUESTIONS.
Start with some warm-ups to get you and your partner comfortable and at ease. Ask open-ended questions — the kind that can’t be answered with a simple “yes” or “no.” Follow up with probing questions about details that interest you. If you are interviewing someone you know well, share a specific memory or story you want to hear more about. Use this opportunity to ask the questions you’ve always wanted to ask, think of it as a great conversation, and be yourself. To get you started, here is a list of 10 of StoryCorps founder Dave Isay’s favorite interview questions for Stonewall OutLoud:

CONDUCT YOUR INTERVIEW.
Enjoy the time together, and the honor you do to one another to share these stories. Offer your gratitude and appreciation at the end.

ARCHIVE YOUR STORY.
At the end of the interview, the StoryCorps App will ask whether you would like to have your story archived for future generations. The StoryCorps App gives you three options for sharing after you record your interview: “Everyone,” “Archive Users,” and “Only You.” Be sure to check with your partner about privacy and with whom they’d like to share the story. You can always change your privacy settings at any time. Once your level of sharing has been chosen, your story will be archived with over hundreds of thousands of other stories at the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress.

ADD KEYWORDS TO YOUR STORY SO OTHERS CAN FIND IT.
The stories in the App are organized by keywords, which refer to the main themes or topics of a story, and are what others will use to look for your story. Please tag your story “Stonewall OutLoud” in addition to other relevant tags, such as “LGBTQ,” “Pride,” “Coming Out,” “Activism,” or others.

STORYCORPS CARES ABOUT YOUR PRIVACY.
Click here to see the privacy policy, and know that you have complete control over how and whether to share your story, and whom to share it with.
